A PHILIPPINE LETTER

FORMER COUNTY BOY WRITES.

Tells of the Life the Soldier Boys Lead and Some History of the Island.

The following letter was received here from Joseph Haebig, who served in Co. A, 2d Wis. Volunteers during the Spanish-American war, and was at Porto Rico. He afterward enlisted in the 3d U. S. Inf. at Fort Snelling.

SANTO TOMAS, P. I., June 16, 1900.
Dear Friend:—I have just finished reading some letters from home which reminded me of the fact that you wanted to hear from me, and I will try to describe to you some things concerning our life here and what we are doing. However, the folks in the states, judging from papers that we occasionally get, are as well informed concerning the islands as we are, and we have been here nearly a year and a half.

As to the fighting we have to do: It is rather slack now, as there are no more lines between us and the enemy, the latter having scattered into small bands and are carrying on a guerrilla warfare. Now and then there is a chase after them, but they are getting scarcer every day, and although we cannot tell how many there are left, we do know every time we capture a band of them that their numbers are decreased by that many.

My company is stationed at San Fernando doing garrison duty and patrolling or scouting the surrounding country. Occasionally we have the luck to capture a few rifles, then again we will spend many days in hunting without getting anything. Two weeks ago we went out six miles to where there are no troops stationed and got seven rifles and some bolts, the latter being the natives' favorite weapon and there is no mistake about their knowing how to use them, but are not so effective as a Krag-Jorgensen at long range. Our main duty here is guarding a prison where natives and also soldier prisoners are confined. After a certain number of prisoners has accumulated we march them to San Isidro where there is a large military prison. We seldom go with less than one hundred and it takes four days to make the trip. Before starting on the trip the prisoners are lined up two abreast and with a long rope their wrists are tied, then the escort is formed, generally about eighteen men, two non-commissioned officers with a commissioned officer in charge, and then the tramp begins along the narrow winding road towards the mountains. Arrayed is our camping place the first night and with an early start next morning we reach Cabio, where we boil our cup of coffee. When we reach San Isidro the prisoners are turned over to the commanding officer who gives a receipt for them, and next morning we start for home, as some of the boys call it at San Fernando. Some times when marching prisoners over this winding, shadeless road the dust kicked up by their feet fills the air so densely that it is impossible to see to the front of the line from the rear. The prisoners seem tired and fagged out, and when we stop to have lunch two of them are released and a sentinel placed over them and they hustle about and cook rice for their comrades and carry it around to them in coconut shells or even their hats if they have no other receptacle. None except those that cook are released during this march, and when the cooks are through with their work they go promptly back to their place where they are again tied like their comrades. It seems a trifle awkward for them to sleep in this manner, but it appears the safest way of taking care of them.

A short time ago I saw one of our old comrades of Co. A, 2d Wis., Ralph Bement. He is now in the 34th U. S. Volunteers, and is stationed about 12 miles beyond San Isidro. He is looking well, and says that only one man of his company has been killed since they came over. Paul Degner, another comrade who was with us in Porto Rico, is in the same regiment but is stationed on another island. Adjutant Green, formerly of the 2d Wis., is now captain and quartermaster of his regiment.

The 35th Vol. Inf. had some bad luck recently. They were attacked at San Miguel by the Ladrone and had five men killed and seven wounded and two privates and a captain Roberts captured. One of the wounded men was sent in on a bamboo sled to which was hitched a water buffalo, and the man had a note from the enemy stating that the captured men would be treated as in modern warfare. Since then letters have been received by Capt. Roberts stating that he was being treated well and would soon be released and be back in command of his company.

Gen. Pio del Pilar has been captured at Manila. The 41st Vol. Inf. also captured Gen. Hison. He tried to escape but his horse stumbled and threw him, spraining his ankle and breaking his arm. He was kept at Mexico that night and our surgeon went there to dress his wounds. About 11:30 that same night a band of the natives attacked the 41st, thinking they might be able to recapture the general, and we were all ready to march over and reinforce our boys, but the blacks were put to flight before we started. The general was sent to Manila yesterday.

Gen. Macabulao and several other officers and 124 soldiers with rifles surrendered today. They left on the train with a safer feeling than they have had for a year past. There is also a report that Aguinaldo has been killed, but as they have had him dead about twenty times since I arrived I do not take much stock in the report, and think him still a very lively "nigger." As the rainy season is starting in I think Aggy had better get his life preserver fixed up if he is still on the island.

Twenty-six of our men are stationed at Santo Tomas where they are guarding a railroad bridge. It is one and one-half miles from here and is rather a lonesome place, but we get relieved every 20 days. The quarters there are in very poor shape and as no move is being made toward fixing them up it will be a very disagreeable station during the rainy season. It has rained pretty much during the past week, which seems to be a pretty good start toward the six months of rainy season that all the boys hate to see come on.

But I will try to tell you something about the islands as I have learned. The aboriginals of the Philippine Islands are of a race known as Negritos by the Spanish and Aetas by the civilized natives. According to the common belief they originated in New Guinea or Australia, and are still to be found in the interior of the islands, though they are rapidly disappearing. They are a small race and very black and do not take kindly to civilization.

When the islands were first discovered by white men they were divided into small principalities, each under the leadership of a Rajah. The Spanish have brought the present inhabitants, who have crowded out the Negritos, to a state of civilization and converted them to Christianity. On some of the islands there are a number of tribes of Mohammedan Malays. They are a fierce people, difficult to civilize and little given to intercourse with Europeans. Magellan in 1521 first visited this region and landed at Butuan where he was well received by the natives. He afterward went to Zebu where the king and 800 natives were baptized and swore allegiance to the Spanish king. The Zebuanas at that time were at war with the inhabitants of the small island of Mactan. It was from these latter islanders that Magellan received the wound which resulted in his death, he being in command of a small expedition against them in the interest of the Zebuanas. His monument stands on the left bank of the Pasig river just outside the walls of Manila. The king of Zebu then revolted against the Spanish and all of the latter on the island left under command of Sebastian de Elcano, and to him lies the credit of having first circumnavigated the globe. His statue at the arsenal of Cavite is one of the first sights that impresses the American soldier as he enters. After Sebastian de Elcano there have been a number of expeditions to this part of the world, some from nearly every country of the old world. Adventurers and pirates have found the islands a favorite place for raids and forages, some coming peacefully and others in strength enough to accomplish their intent by force.

The walls still stand about Manila that were built in 1590, and although covered by moss are still in a good state of preservation, and the parapets, moats, ponderous gates and drawbridges continue to be objects of interest to strangers. During recent years there has been much talk of leveling the walls and filling the moat but the idea has been abandoned because it was feared that the disturbance of vegetation necessarily involved in the task would prove more dangerous to the public health than are the stagnant waters of the moat. In the year 1741 there were serious volcanic disturbances. Eruptions occurred on several of the islands and in many towns the entire population was wiped out and huge mountains were submerged. Only a short time after this Manila was subjected to an earthquake. The shocks were terrific, the earth seeming to rock like a cradle, while trees and church spires swung to and fro like the spars of a ship. Buildings fell like so many block houses and over 600 people were killed. The shocks continued for two days and the city was a mass of ruins, and the people deserted it for a long time. In the years from 1685 to 1688 there were troublesome times in this section of the universe. The earth again trembled, floods of rain submerged the lowlands and locusts destroyed the crops in the highlands, and a terrible epidemic of small-pox raged through it all. Some of the volcanoes were also active and many of the towns were laid in ashes by being swept over by a flood of molten lava. So you can see with even the short sketch I have given you that the islands and their inhabitants have been through a variety of vicissitudes and to read the history it is a wonder that there were any inhabitants left to fight us when we arrived.

If I had room in the letter I would send you one of the cigarettes smoked by our chocolate colored dandies. They also chew Beate nuts. I have tried to chew Beate nut, but can get more consolation out of climax plug tobacco, which, by the way, is rather a scarce article at times. Well, so long, regards to old comrades.

F. DAMITZ KILLED.

A SENECA FARMER MEETS DEATH.

Impaled on a Sharp Stick on His Hay Rack. Dies before Medical Assistance Arrives.

Ferdinand Damitz, a well-to-do farmer living about three and one-half miles from this city in the town of Seneca met with an awful accident Friday morning, dying from the effects of his wound in a short time, he having run a sharp stick on his hay rack into his groin, causing a frightful wound.

Mr. Damitz had been hauling hay to his barn for some time past and had just finished unloading the last load. He stood in the door of the second story of his barn and jumped to the rack of his wagon and landed on one of the pointed stakes that project from the rack to keep the load from shifting, causing a fearful wound. His daughter stood below on the ground and warned him not to jump, saying she would obtain a ladder for him and started to do so, but before she could get it her father had made the fatal leap. He landed on the rack and one of his feet slipped and he pitched forward onto the stake where he was held fast until assisted by his daughter.

Medical aid was at once summoned from this city but before the doctor arrived the unfortunate man had passed away. He had sustained a fearful wound and had the physician been on the spot at the time of the accident there is no doubt that the injury would have caused his death just the same.

The deceased was an old resident of the town of Seneca, having settled there about thirty years ago. He leaves a wife and five children, they being Mrs. Frank Kruger, William, Charles, Albert, Amelia and Emma, who have the sympathy of all in their affliction. Mr. Damitz was a man who through years of industry and hard work had acquired a competency and was in robust health, so that his demise is all the more deplorable. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of the deceased.

MEETING OF TEACHERS.

They Respond to Invitation to Hear Library Talk.

On Thursday evening in response to an invitation a large number of teachers assembled at the library building to hear addresses on the circulating library question. Considerable interest was taken in the matter as was evidenced by the attendance, and it is certainly a matter that should be of interest to all who wish to extend and assist in educational matters. The meeting was opened by E. P. Arpin, who explained the interest of the meeting and touched upon the advantages to be gained by having the circulating libraries properly placed and attended to. J. D. Witter also spoke on the subject and gave his ideas and object in giving the libraries to the county. Supt. Leu also addressed the meeting along the same line and explained to those present the advantages to be gained by having the libraries properly circulated throughout the county. Prof. Schulz, who was assisting Mr. Leu in the conduct of the teachers institute gave his ideas on the good that can be accomplished and told of the circulating libraries in Lincoln county. These are sent out by the Woman's club of Merrill and consist of twelve libraries. Prof. Banting also spoke on the subject and the teacher's part in the matter. After the speaking there was an informal discussion on how to secure libraries, etc., and catalogues were distributed.

Heretofore the teachers throughout the county have not taken a great deal of interest in the traveling library and the object of the meeting was to interest them in the matter and by showing them the advantages obtain their assistance in the matter. While the school house is not the best place in which to have the libraries situated, the co-operation of the teachers will greatly assist in the good work accomplished by these institutions.

Cost Him $8.15.

John Pazesa was arrested on Monday and brought before a justice and fined for allowing his cattle to run at large in the streets of the city. The fine and costs amounted to $8.15 which he paid. Officer Gibson states that Pazesa's horses had been picked up several times running about the street but owing to the fact that the man gave the officers a hard luck story and begged to be let off nothing was done about the matter. This is a matter that should be looked after by all who own horses and cattle as there are a certain class of people who are so particular that they do not like to have their neighbor's stock running about their yard eating their garden and tramping down nicely kept lawns. This may seem a trifle selfish to the owners of cattle but as there are ordinances prohibiting such things it is probably best to observe them.

Nominated for Governor.

Max A. Wiperman, who was nominated for governor by the Democrats of North Dakota, is the youngest brother of the Hon. Herman Wiperman of this city. Mr. Wiperman's chances for being elected governor seem to be good as the Populists of that state have fused with the Democrats and the Prohibitionists will also support the Democratic nominee. We have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with the Hon. Mr. Wiperman of North Dakota, but the fact of his being a brother of our Mr. Wiperman is sufficient proof of his ability to execute the duties of governor if elected to that office. The politics of these two brothers differ, however, in that our Mr. Wiperman is a republican, and it has often been a puzzling question with us as to why he went over to the enemy, but it must be owing to the bad company he has been keeping since coming to Wood county. However, we hope to see his brother win out at the polls next November.

The Influence of a Home Is Very Powerful.

The furnishings needn't be expensive, but they should be artistic, pretty and cheerful. Art and beauty in the home should be the character of the boys and girls—awaken and educate the finer senses. They're not slow to bring their friends to a pretty home, and if home is uncongenial, they spend very little time there. Our furniture is as artistic as any—more durable than most—lower priced than any hereabouts.

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Sisters United After Long and Peculiar Separation. Each Supposed the Other Dead.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., July 25. [Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Williamson of Indianapolis are in the city, the guests of Mrs. David Kirk. The above mention contains a very strange and interesting story of two lives in one family that drifted apart while almost in childhood. Mrs. Williamson is a sister of Mrs. Kirk's, and the two have just been reunited after a separation of nearly forty years. They drifted apart when young girls, Mrs. Kirk coming to Wisconsin and Mrs. Williamson going to Chicago. After a few years the correspondence which they had been carrying on became very meager, and they lost track of each other. After the great Chicago fire Mrs. Kirk could never find any trace of her sister, and has always believed she perished in that great conflagration. Mrs. Williamson, who narrowly escaped death in the fire, made several efforts to locate her sister and never succeeding, finally came to the conclusion that she was not living. About a year ago she became possessed of facts which enabled her to locate Mrs. Kirk, and the two sisters, who have not seen each other since childhood, and who have each, for over twenty-five years, supposed the other dead, are at last reunited.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

An Appleton Servant Girl is Held Up by Masked Man.

Appleton, Wis., July 25. [Special.]—Mary Manthey, a servant girl employed at one of the summer cottages at Aloha Beach, an Appleton summer colony on Lake Winnebago, three miles from this city, was held up last night and robbed of her purse containing a small sum of money, by a highwayman disguised by a handkerchief over his face for a mask. The girl had been to Appleton and returned home on an interurban car which stops at Waverly Beach, nearly a mile from Aloha. She was walking down the track toward home when stopped by the highwayman, who snatched her pocket-book and made off.

On Sunday night Capt. N. M. Edwards was knocked down on a residence street, early in the evening, by three unknown men. After a brief struggle he escaped. It is not thought any robbery was intended, but the attack was in mere drunken wantonness.

BOOK BY MADISON WOMAN.

Miss Eliza R. Scidmore's "China, the Long-Lived Empire." Madison people are particularly interested in the success of a new book by Miss Eliza R. Scidmore, called "China, the Long-Lived Empire." Miss Scidmore is herself a former Madison girl, as the early years of her life were spent here, after the family's removal from Chicago, Ill. She accompanied her father to Japan when he was made consul-general to Yokohama. She has called Yokohama "home" ever since. Although it is a long time since Miss Scidmore has lived here, she has kept in touch with many Madison friends, and has frequently visited her home. The last time she was here was in the summer of '03, when she attended the meeting of a scientific society of which she is a member. This is the first time since Scidmore's maiden departure that she has been in her home town. She is now in the city, and is writing the book, "China, the Long-Lived Empire." THEY ARE NOT DEAD.

Word is Received from Wisconsin Missionaries Who Are in China.

Appleton, Wis., July 25. [Special.]—A letter was received here yesterday by friends from Mrs. Elizabeth La Doux James, wife of Rev. Edward James, a missionary at Nanjing, China, which encourages the belief of friends here that both are safe. The letter was written June 15 from a little place far up in the hills, about 100 miles from Nanjing, where many families of missionaries go for the summer and where about 1000 women and children were at the time the letter was written.

So quiet is this little place and so far removed from the scene of the Boxer outrages that Mrs. James at the time of writing had evidently not heard of the trouble at all, as no reference to it was made in the letter. Rev. Mr. James, at the time of writing, was at Nanjing and the letter was written from there.

In large rocks piled on a bridge a short distance north of it, which Mr. Swan succeeded in removing also. The train consisted of one coach, baggage car and two sleepers, one of the sleepers bearing a fishing party of thirty or more members of the Three Lakes Rod and Gun club of this place. The stranger and a companion named Frank Slomp applied at the Jandl farm for work eight days ago. They proved worthless and were driven away. "Joe" returned and was permitted to remain. While Jandl was getting the breakfast, "Joe" entered the kitchen and deliberately shot him in the breast and ran from the house. Jandl followed and when outside the man fired four more shots, two taking effect in Jandl's arm.

TWO BODIES FOUND.

Manitowish Mysteries Are Cleared Up. Missing Men Are Both Dead.

Manitowish, Wis., July 23. [Special.]—Two Manitowish men who disappeared so mysteriously more than two weeks ago, and for whom a continual search has been made but without result, have been found. Brakeman Schwarz of the Northwestern road, while engaged in the lake front switchyards, noticed something that resembled a human body floating about half-way down the slip. He notified Officer Smith and the two procured a boat and on arriving at the place found the body of a man, but they were unable to recognize who it was. They took the body to Vogt's undertaking rooms, where Frank Jandl identified the body as that of his missing brother, Arthur Rahn, who disappeared July 10. He was working with a crew of three men at the Reiss coal docks. The three men, including Rahn, sat down to their dinner on Tuesday, July 10, and after finishing dinner Rahn left the other two men. When 1 o'clock came Rahn failed to report for work and the foreman, asking the two men where he was, they said he had gone off for a walk. He never returned, however. His coat, hat and dinner pail had been left on the docks. A reward was offered for his discovery, but was withdrawn a few days ago. Two of the caterers were in the slip, side by side, yesterday and it was said they had been through the working of their wheelbarrow the body was brought to the surface. It is supposed that somehow or other Rahn accidentally fell into the slip and was drowned before help could reach him. He leaves a wife and two children. The body will be taken to New Holstein, where he formerly lived, for burial. He was about 45 years of age.

IRON MINE ON A ROCK COUNTY FARM.

Farmer John Malone, Town of Johns, May Have Made a Very Rich Discovery.

John Malone, town of Johnston, has discovered what he thinks to be and what experts tell him is an iron mine on his farm. He bought the place some three years ago and the spot where the ore shows above the surface is about 8 feet square. Grain or grass will not grow on this spot and that is what called Mr. Malone's attention to it. He has dug down about three feet and the material is full of iron and sulphur.

RACINE ALDERMAN IS MISSING AGAIN.

Writes to Chief of Police to Look in the Lake for a Floater.

Racine, Wis., July 24. [Special.]—Alderman Albert Link of the Sixth ward has again created a sensation here. This morning Chief of Police Schumacher received in his mail a letter from Mr. Link stating that he had left the city for purpose which he could not explain and that he had gone to Chicago, hoping to borrow some money, but had failed to secure what he needed. He further wrote that the chief had better look in the lake as he would probably find a "floater" there. Link has been missing from the city for several days. His mother, with whom he lived, says that he told her he was going to Union Grove to work. He gave up his position in the machine shop here where he had been employed for some time. His friends do not think that he has killed himself, but think he has left the city for some reason which they refuse to make public. Several months ago he disappeared from Racine and was gone some time. He was found in St. Paul. He claimed that he knew nothing of where he had been from the time he left the city until he was found.

Manitowish Mysteries Are Cleared Up. Missing Men Are Both Dead.

Manitowish, Wis., July 23. [Special.]—Two Manitowish men who disappeared so mysteriously more than two weeks ago, and for whom a continual search has been made but without result, have been found. Brakeman Schwarz of the Northwestern road, while engaged in the lake front switchyards, noticed something that resembled a human body floating about half-way down the slip. He notified Officer Smith and the two procured a boat and on arriving at the place found the body of a man, but they were unable to recognize who it was. They took the body to Vogt's undertaking rooms, where Frank Jandl identified the body as that of his missing brother, Arthur Rahn, who disappeared July 10. He was working with a crew of three men at the Reiss coal docks. The three men, including Rahn, sat down to their dinner on Tuesday, July 10, and after finishing dinner Rahn left the other two men. When 1 o'clock came Rahn failed to report for work and the foreman, asking the two men where he was, they said he had gone off for a walk. He never returned, however. His coat, hat and dinner pail had been left on the docks. A reward was offered for his discovery, but was withdrawn a few days ago. Two of the caterers were in the slip, side by side, yesterday and it was said they had been through the working of their wheelbarrow the body was brought to the surface. It is supposed that somehow or other Rahn accidentally fell into the slip and was drowned before help could reach him. He leaves a wife and two children. The body will be taken to New Holstein, where he formerly lived, for burial. He was about 45 years of age.

Writes to Chief of Police to Look in the Lake for a Floater.

This morning Chief of Police Schumacher received in his mail a letter from Mr. Link stating that he had left the city for purpose which he could not explain and that he had gone to Chicago, hoping to borrow some money, but had failed to secure what he needed. He further wrote that the chief had better look in the lake as he would probably find a "floater" there. Link has been missing from the city for several days. His mother, with whom he lived, says that he told her he was going to Union Grove to work. He gave up his position in the machine shop here where he had been employed for some time. He claimed that he knew nothing of where he had been from the time he left the city until he was found.

Acting upon the thought that I had shot east of everything, I steamed away from the bank and went two miles up the river, anchoring in the first bend. St. Paul, Minn., July 25.—A dispatch special from Kalispel, Mont., says one of the worst forest fires ever known in northwestern Montana is now raging in the Swan Lake country, on the western part of the Lewis and Clark forest reserve. Gus Mesher, superintendent of the reserve, reports that the Indians deliberately set fire to the timber and are slaughtering the game. He will proceed against the perpetrators. Within this area:

thirty miles up and down the river he says there are over thirty fires now burning fiercely. He says that many millions of acres are burning and that it is the finest white pine and cedar on the reserve, and that it is almost impossible to locate the fires.

Finding of Crowbar Shows that a Man Was Unjustly Convicted.

NEKOOSA.

Mr. Grundy and his party are now located at Birch Lake, where the commodious cottage built just across the river has been christened, and very appropriately, too, for it is built on a small island, completely surrounded by water. The cottage has eight rooms and a wide veranda extends across two sides and just at this point the river makes a deep bend, giving a beautiful view from two sides of the lodge. Mr. Grundy has quite a large party there and they are prepared to remain all summer.

The second of a series of dances to be given, one each week, was held last Friday night and was largely attended. Chas. Podawiltz, Frank Atwood, John Jeffrey, Elbert Kellogg, John Vanderlie, Will Slingerland, and Frank Corcoran, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Voelker, Miss Volmar, Messrs. Ed. Thompson and Wm. Koltenbach, of Marshfield, were in attendance.

A party of ladies, consisting of Mrs. I. P. Tiffault, Mrs. H. A. Lathrop, Mrs. W. H. Reddis, Mrs. W. D. Connor, Mrs. W. Livingston, Mr. J. N. Byington and Mrs. E. P. Ellsworth, of Marshfield, arrived in the village on Wednesday morning and are spending a few days at the summer cottage of C. H. Grundy.

Miss Elma Gibson gave an art exhibit at the residence of Mrs. Gurdy last Tuesday. She had a display of beautiful hand painted china and sketches, drawings and studies in water colors and oils, all of which were very lovely. Miss Gibson is doing some sketching in this vicinity.

Miss Nora McHugh, of Marshfield, who is engaged as kindergarten teacher in the Nekoosa schools spent last Friday, Saturday and Sunday among friends here. She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Weiland. Both attended the Friday night dance.

Saning Winegar, Arthur Coole, Clyde and Chas. Herricks and Roy Early are camping out on the opposite side of the river across from Chowder Point. The boys went into camp Tuesday and having all sorts of sport.

Mr. Will Zeaman has been off duty as backender on one of the paper machines for the past days in account of an injured hand.

Mrs. Warren Sanderson and the Misses Cora and Jennie Pratt, accompanied by a friend, were Nekoosa callers on Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry George and son Everett have been visiting relatives at Plover this week, having accompanied Mrs. Ross home.

Mrs. Frank Cleveland and two children were guests at the Herbert Lapham residence Wednesday.

Misses Edith Nash and Eva Jones, of your city, called on their Nekoosa friends on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cameron and son Adrian were guests at the Gurdy residence last Sunday.

Miss Mary McCamley from "up town" has been visiting friends here this week.

Mr. Carmody has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. T. Snell, during the past week.

Mrs. G. W. Mason was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Herbert Lapham on Saturday.

MARSHFIELD ITEMS.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kedziora, living about eight miles north of this city, was so badly burned that she died from her injuries fifteen hours later. A fire was burning in the yard to keep away mosquitoes and while playing about this little girl's dress caught fire. Her cries brought her father to the scene who extinguished the flames with his hands, receiving quite severe burns himself. A physician was summoned from this city but the skin had been destroyed on half the surface of the child's body and nothing could be done to save her life.

The coming Beell-Adamson match at the opera house next Wednesday evening promises to be the most interesting of any that has taken place in this city. Beell is in good condition and will probably enter the ring at 158 pounds, while Adamson will be a few pounds lighter. Outside of the few pounds difference in weight the men are about as evenly matched as it is possible to imagine, two men, the difference in weight being off-set by Adamson's remarkable speed.

The Second Regiment band and Company A. were inspected Tuesday evening by Lieut. Caldwell of the 7th U. S. Cavalry. A large crowd was out and watched the maneuvers of the company which lasted about an hour and a half.

Charles Oertz was arrested here last week and taken to Stevens Point where he was bound over to appear for trial at the circuit court. Oertz is charged with having stolen $30 from an old soldier.

A lawn social was given at the residence of Mrs. A. K. Hattberg on Thursday for the benefit of the famine sufferers in India. The Second Regiment band furnished music during the evening.

Mrs. James Rowson, aged 67, died last Friday after a long illness from dropsy. The deceased leaves a husband and three grown sons.

GENERAL COUNTY.

LaPearle's Company Proves to Be All That Was Advertised.

The entry temperature of last evening did not prevent a good sized audience from seeing LaPearle's vaudeville show at the Sherman. and Manager Farrell kept them quite comfortable with electric fans and ice water. Taken as a whole, the show pleased everyone there, and some parts of it were better than the average for a popular priced performance. The Ellet brothers were very good on the horizontal bars, the moving pictures were good, as was also the musical number by the four Millions. By far the best thing on the program was the trapeze act of the two LaPearle sisters on trapezes swung from the top of the opera house directly over the parquette. They are better in that line than any one who has been here for some time. —Ottawa, Ill., Daily Republican Times. At Grand Rapids opera house, Tuesday, July 31.

Bishop Names Candidates.

Bishop Grafton has gone to Deer Park, Md., where he will spend a few weeks in hunting. Before he left Fond du Lac Bishop Grafton gave out the names of candidates to be presented to the coming council for bishop coadjutor. They are: Dr. Mortimer of St. Mark's church, Philadelphia; Dr. Webb, president of the Nashotah house; the Rev. Father Huntington of the Order of the Holy Cross and son of Bisco, Huntington of New York; the Rev. Father Larrabee, rector of the church of the Ascension of Chicago; Dr. Gardner, archdeacon of Algoma; the Rev. B. Talbot Rogers, warden of Grafton Hall, and the Rev. Father Weller, of Stevens Point.

The election of coadjutor bishop is to take place at Fond du Lac, Aug. 29 and it is sincerely hoped that the standing committee will see fit to name the Rev. Father Weller for this position. Father Weller is considered one of the brightest clergymen of the Episcopal church and his many years of work in this line will ably fit him for the position of coadjutor bishop. We would suggest that the members of the Episcopal churches of Stevens Point and of this city, with an endeavor to enlist members of other Episcopal churches throughout the diocese, petition the standing committee praying for the election of Rev. Father Weller as coadjutor bishop.

There were fifty-four ladies present, and all report a most enjoyable time.

Is it Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines.

From Sylvan Valley News, Bristol, N. C.
It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Johnson & Hill Co., druggist.

How to Pack Eggs for long Keeping.

The yolk of the egg spoils much quicker than the white. For this reason it is important that the yolk should be surrounded with a layer of the white. If the egg is placed on the side or large end the heavy yolk will settle to the bottom and come in contact with the shell, which admits the air. If it is placed on the small end it will always have a layer of white between it and the shell. Eggs absorb odors easily, therefore only odorless materials should be used when packing them. —August Ladies' Home Journal.

A PHILIPPINE LETTER

FORMER COUNTY BOY WRITES.

Tells of the Life the Soldier Boys Lead and Some History of the Island.

The following letter was received here from Joseph Haebig, who served in Co. A, 2d Wis. Volunteers during the Spanish-American war, and was at Porto Rico. He afterward enlisted in the 3d U. S. Inf. at Fort Snelling.

SANTO TOMAS, P. I., June 16, 1900.
Dear Friend:—I have just finished reading some letters from home which reminded me of the fact that you wanted to hear from me, and I will try to describe to you some things concerning our life here and what we are doing. However, the folks in the states, judging from papers that we occasionally get, are as well informed concerning the islands as we are, and we have been here nearly a year and a half.

As to the fighting we have to do: It is rather slack now, as there are no more lines between us and the enemy, the latter having scattered into small bands and are carrying on a guerrilla warfare. Now and then there is a chase after them, but they are getting scarcer every day, and although we cannot tell how many there are left, we do know every time we capture a band of them that their numbers are decreased by that many.

My company is stationed at San Fernando doing garrison duty and patrolling or scouting the surrounding country. Occasionally we have the luck to capture a few rifles, then again we will spend many days in hunting without getting anything. Two weeks ago we went out six miles to where there are no troops stationed and got seven rifles and some bolos, the latter being the natives' favorite weapon and there is no mistake about their knowing how to use them, but are not so effective as a King-Jorgenson at long range. Our main duty here is guarding a prison where natives and also soldier prisoners are confined. After a certain number of prisoners has accumulated we march them to San Isidro where there is a large military prison. We seldom go with less than one hundred and it takes four days to make the trip. Before starting on the trip the prisoners are lined up two abreast and with a long rope their wrists are tied, then the escort is formed, generally about eighteen men, two non-commissioned officers with a commissioned officer in charge, and then the tramp begins along the narrow winding road towards the mountains. Arrived at our camping place the first night and with an early start next morning we reach Cabio, where we boil our cup of coffee. When we reach San Isidro the prisoners are turned over to the commanding officer who gives a receipt for them, and next morning we start for home, as some of the boys call it at San Fernando. Some times when marching prisoners over this winding, shadeless road the dust kicked up by their feet fills the air so densely that it is impossible to see to the front of the line from the rear. The prisoners seem tired and fagged out, and when we stop to have lunch two of them are released and a sentinel placed over them and they hustle about and cook rice for their comrades and carry it around to them in coconut shells or even their hats if they have no other receptacle. None except those that cook are released during this march, and when the cooks are through with their work they go promptly back to their place where they are again tied like their comrades. It seems a trifle awkward for them to sleep in this manner, but it appears the safest way of taking care of them.

A short time ago I saw one of our old comrades of Co. A, 2d Wis., Ralph Bement. He is now in the 34th U. S. Volunteers, and is stationed about 12 miles beyond San Isidro. He is looking well, and says that only one man of his company has been killed since they came over. Paul Degner, another comrade who was with us in Porto Rico, is in the same regiment but is stationed on another island, Adjutant Green, formerly of the 2d Wis., is now captain and quartermaster of his regiment.

The 35th Vol. Inf. had some bad luck recently. They were attacked at San Miguel by the Ladrones and had five men killed and seven wounded and two privates and a captain Roberts captured. One of the wounded men was sent in on a bamboo sled to which was hitched a water buffalo, and the man had a note from the enemy stating that the captured men would be treated as in modern warfare. Since then letters have been received by Capt. Roberts stating that he was being treated well and would soon be released and be back in command of his company.

Gen. Pio del Pilar has been captured at Manila. The 41st Vol. Inf. also captured Gen. Hison. He tried to escape but his horse stumbled and threw him, spraining his ankle and breaking his arm. He was kept at Mexico that night and our surgeon went there to dress his wounds. About 11:30 that same night a band of the natives attacked the 41st, thinking they might be able to recapture the general, and we were all ready to march over and reinforce our boys, but the blacks were put to flight before we started. The general was sent to Manila yesterday.

Gen. Macabulao and several other officers and 124 soldiers with rifles surrendered today. They left on the train with a safer feeling than they have had for a year past. There is also a report that Aguinaldo has been killed, but as they have had him dead about twenty times since I arrived I do not take much stock in the report, and think him still a very lively "nigger." As the rainy season is starting in I think Aggy had better get his life preserver fixed up if he is still on the island.

Twenty-six of our men are stationed at Santo Tomas where they are guarding a railroad bridge. It is one and one-half miles from here and is rather a handsome place, but we get relieved every 20 days. The quarters there are in very poor shape and as no more is being made toward fixing them up it will be a very disagreeable station during the rainy season. It has rained pretty much during the past week, which seems to be a pretty good start toward the six months of rainy season that all the boys hate to see come on.

But I will try to tell you something about the islands as I have learned. The aboriginals of the Philippine islands are of a race known as Negritos by the Spanish and Aetas by the civilized natives. According to the common belief they originated in New Guinea or Australia, and are still to be found in the interior of the islands, though they are rapidly disappearing. They are a small race and very black and do not take kindly to civilization. When the islands were first discovered by white men they were divided into small principalities, each under the leadership of a Rajah. The Spanish have brought the present inhabitants, who have crowded out the Negritos, to a state of civilization and converted them to Christianity. On some of the islands there are a number of tribes of Mohammedan Malays. They are a fierce people, difficult to civilize and little given to intercourse with Europeans. Magellan in 1521 first visited this region and landed at Butuan where he was well received by the natives. He afterward went to Zebu where the king and 800 natives were baptized and swore allegiance to the Spanish king. The Zebuanas at that time were at war with the inhabitants of the small island of Mactan. It was from these latter islanders that Magellan received the wound which resulted in his death, he being in command of a small expedition against them in the interest of the Zebuanas. His monument stands on the left bank of the Pasig river just outside the walls of Manila. The king of Zebu then revolted against the Spanish and all of the latter on the island left under command of Sebastian de Elcano, and to him lies the credit of having first circumnavigated the globe. His statue at the arsenal of Cavite is one of the first sights that impresses the American soldier as he enters. After Sebastian de Elcano there have been a number of expeditions to this part of the world, some from nearly every country of the old world. Adventurers and pirates have found the islands a favorite place for raids and forages, some coming peacefully and others in strength enough to accomplish their intent by force.

The walls still stand about Manila that were built in 1590, and although covered by moss are still in a good state of preservation, and the palaces, the houses, the churches and the bridges continue to be objects of interest to strangers. During recent years there has been much talk of leveling the walls and filling the moat but the idea has been abandoned because it was feared that the disturbance of vegetation necessarily involved in the task would prove more dangerous to the public health than the stagnant waters of the moat. In the year 1771 there were serious volcanic disturbances. Eruptions occurred on several of the islands and in many towns the entire population was wiped out and huge mountains were submerged. Only a short time after this Manila was subjected to an earthquake. The shocks were terrific, the earth seeming to rock like a cradle, while trees and church spires swung to and fro like the spars of a ship. Buildings fell like so many block houses and over 600 people were killed. The shocks continued for two days and the city was a mass of ruins, and the people deserted it for a long time. In the years from 1685 to 1688 there were tremendous times in this section of the universe. The earth again trembled, floods of rain submerged the lowlands and locusts destroyed the crops in the highlands, and a terrible epidemic of small-pox raged through it all. Some of the volcanoes were also active and many of the towns were laid in ashes by being swept over by a flood of molten lava. So you can see with even the short sketch I have given you that the islands and their inhabitants have been through a variety of vicissitudes and to read the history it is a wonder that there were any inhabitants left to fight us when we arrived.

If I had room in the letter I would send you one of the cigarettes smoked by our chocolate colored comrades. They also chew Beattie nuts. I have tried to chew Beattie nut but can get more consolation out of climax pipe tobacco, which, by the way, is rather a scarce article at times. Well, so long, regards to old comrades.

F. DAMITZ KILLED.

A SENECA FARMER MEETS DEATH.

Impaled on a Sharp Buck on His Hay Rack.—Dies before Medical Assistance Arrives.

Ferdinand Damitz, a well-to-do farmer living about three and one-half miles from this city in the town of Seneca met with an awful accident Friday morning, dying from the effects of his wound in a short time, he having run a sharp stick on his hay rack into his groin, causing a frightful wound.

Mr. Damitz had been hauling hay to his barn for some time past and had just finished unloading the last load. He stood in the door of the second story of his barn and jumped to the rack of his wagon and landed on one of the pointed stakes that project from the rack to keep the load from shifting, causing a fearful wound. His daughter stood below on the ground and warned him not to jump, saying she would obtain a ladder for him and started to do so, but before she could get it her father had made the fatal leap. He landed on the rack and one of his feet slipped and he pitched forward onto the stake where he was held fast until assisted by his daughter.

Medical aid was at once summoned from this city but before the doctor arrived the unfortunate man had passed away. He had sustained a fearful wound and had the physician been on the spot at the time of the accident there is no doubt that the injury would have caused his death just the same.

The deceased was an old resident of the town of Seneca, having settled there about thirty years ago. He leaves a wife and five children, they being Mrs. Frank Kruger, William, Charles, Albert, Amelia and Emma, who have the sympathy of all in their affliction. Mr. Damitz was a man who through years of industry and hard work had acquired a competency and was in robust health, so that his demise is all the more deplorable. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of the deceased.

MEETING OF TEACHERS.

They Respond to Invitation to Hear Library Talk.

On Thursday evening in response to an invitation a large number of teachers assembled at the library building to hear addresses on the circulating library question. Considerable interest was taken in the matter as was evidenced by the attendance, and it is certainly a matter that should be of interest to all who wish to extend and assist in educational matters. The meeting was opened by E. P. Arpia, who explained the interest of the meeting and touched upon the advantages to be gained by having the circulating libraries properly placed and attended to. J. D. Witter also spoke on the subject and gave his ideas and object in giving the libraries to the county. Supt. Leu also addressed the meeting along the same line and explained to those present the advantages to be gained by having the libraries properly circulated throughout the county. Prof. Schulz, who was assisting Mr. Leu in the conduct of the teachers' institute gave his ideas on the good that can be accomplished and sold of the circulating libraries in Lincoln county. These are sent out by the Woman's club of Merrill and consist of twelve libraries. Prof. Bunting also spoke on the subject and the teacher's part in the matter. After the speaking there was an informal discussion on how to secure libraries, etc., and catalogues were distributed.

Heretofore the teachers throughout the county have not taken a great deal of interest in the traveling library and the object of the meeting was to interest them in the matter and by showing them the advantages obtain their assistance in the matter. While the school house is not the best place in which to have the libraries situated, the co-operation of the teachers will greatly assist in the good work accomplished by these institutions.

Cost Him $8.15.

John Pazesa was arrested on Monday and brought before a justice and fined for allowing his cattle to run at large in the streets of the city. The fine and costs amounted to $8.15 which he paid. Officer Gibson states that Pazesa's horses had been picked up several times running about the street but owing to the fact that the man gave the officers a hard luck story and begged to be let off nothing was done about the matter. This is a matter that should be looked after by all who own horses and cattle as there are a certain class of people who are so particular that they do not like to have their neighbor's stock running about their yard eating their garden and tramping down nicely kept lawns. This may seem a trifle selfish to the owners of cattle but as there are ordinances prohibiting such things it is probably best to observe them.

Nominated for Governor.

Max A. Wipperman, who was nominated for governor by the Democrats of North Dakota, is the youngest brother of the Hon. Herman Wipperman of this city. Mr. Wipperman's chances for being elected governor seem to be good as the Populists of that state have fused with the Democrats and the Prohibitionists will also support the Democratic nominee. We have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with the Hon. Mr. Wipperman of North Dakota, but the fact of his being a brother of our Mr. Wip-perman is sufficient proof of his ability to execute the duties of governor if elected to that office. The politics of these two brothers differ, however, in that our Mr. Wipperman is a republican, and it has often been a puzzling question with us as to why he went over to the enemy, but it must be owing to the bad company he has been keeping since coming to Wood county. However, we hope to see his brother win out at the polls next November. □

The Influence of a Home Is Very Powerful.

The furnishings needn't be expensive, but they should be artistic, pretty and cheerful. Art and beauty in the home should be the character of the boys and girls—awaken and educate the finer senses. They're not slow to bring their friends to a pretty home, and if home is uncongenial, they spend very little time there. Our furniture is as artistic as any—more durable than most—lower priced than any hereabouts.

ASSAULTED BY TRAMPS.

William Humphrey of Watertown Dies from His Injuries.

NO CLUE TO WORK ON.

Mr. Humphrey was a prominent Mason—Was Unable to Give Information as to Assaultants.

Watertown, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—William Humphrey, the Watertown liverman who was brutally assaulted at his barn in this city shortly after 9 o'clock last Friday night by two tramps, died at 7 o'clock this morning.

After being assaulted, Mr. Humphrey never gained strength enough to give a satisfactory account of how the affair happened, and the police have to clue by which they had been assisted in hunting down the murderer.

Mr. Humphrey was 51 years of age and unmarried. He was a prominent secret society man. He was a 32nd-degree Mason, and belonged to Milwaukee's Temple of Shriners, was a member of the Milwaukee consistory, and was also secretary of the Masonic and Odd Fellows' lodges of this city. The people are considered as having been over this murder and nothing will be left undone to hunt down the guilty ones.

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Sisters United After Long and Peculiar Separation—Each Supposed the Other Dead.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Williamson of Indianapolis are in the city, the guests of Mrs. David Kirk. The above mention contains a very strange and interesting story of two lives in one family that drifted apart while almost in childhood.

Mrs. Williamson is a sister of Mrs. Kirk's, and the two have just been reunited after a separation of nearly forty years. They drifted apart when young girls. Mrs. Kirk coming to Wisconsin and Mrs. Williamson going to Chicago. After a few years the correspondence which they had been carrying on became very meager, and they lost track of each other. After the great Chicago fire Mrs. Kirk could never find any trace of her sister, and has always believed she perished in that great conflagration. Mrs. Williamson, who was drawn away from her sister, made several efforts to locate her sister and never succeeding, finally came to the conclusion that she was not living. About a year ago she became possessed of facts which enabled her to locate Mrs. Kirk, and the two sisters, who have not seen each other since childhood, and have each, for over twenty-five years, supposed the other dead, are at last reunited.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

An Appleton Servant Girl is Held Up by Masked Men.

Appleton, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Mary Manthey, a servant girl employed at one of the summer cottages at Altona Beach, an Appleton summer colony on Lake Winnebago, three miles from this city, was held up last night and robbed of her purse containing a small sum of money, by a highwayman disguised by a handkerchief over his face in a mask. The girl had been to Appleton and returned home on an interurban car which stops at Westbeach, near a mile from Altona. She was walking down the track toward home when stopped by the highwayman, who snatched her pocketbook and made off.

On Sunday night Capt. N. M. Edwards was knocked down on a residence street, early in the evening, by three unknown men. After a brief struggle he escaped. It is not thought any robbery was intended, but the attack was in mere drunken wantonness.

FOOLED THE MOTHER.

Daughter Slips Away and Gets Married and Groom Has Irate Parent Arrested.

Spring Valley, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Erdman and daughter Jennie of One went to Ellsworth on business yesterday. While there the girl slipped away from her mother and eloped with a young man named Chip. To make it unique, the groom, after the ceremony, had Mrs. Erdman arrested and lodged in jail charged with making threats of bodily injury to him.

Janesville, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Charles Kelleher of Rockford, Ill., arrived in the city this morning in search of his daughter Nellie, aged 15. He said the young woman left her home at Rockford yesterday afternoon and he had traced her to this city. She was seen leaving from the train yesterday afternoon and was taken to the city jail.

The father is very much worried and with the aid of the police has been searching the city for the girl all this morning.

BOOK BY MADISON WOMAN.

Miss Eliza R. Scidmore's "China, the Long-Lived Empire."

Madison, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Madison people are particularly interested in the success of a new book by Eliza R. Scidmore, called "China, the Long-Lived Empire." Miss Scidmore is herself a married woman, and as the early years of her life were spent here, after the family's removal from Clinton, Ia. She accompanied her husband to Japan when he was made vice-consul general to Yokohama. She has called Yokohama "home" ever since. Although it is a long time since Miss Scidmore has lived here, she has kept in touch with many Madison friends, and has frequently been here. Mrs. Scidmore is a member of the Madison Club. The last time she was here was in the summer of '03, when she attended the meeting of a scientific society of which she is a member. This is by no means the first time she has been here, though it is the author of other books on travel, among them, "Javan, the Garden of the East," "Westward to the Far East," and "Eastward to the West," the last of which has been translated into French.

ADAM KUTA HELD FOR TRIAL.

Eaton Farmer is Charged with Attempt to Murder.

Green Bay, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Adam Kuta of the town of Eaton, who was arrested for alleged criminal and inhuman treatment of two insane and demented children, was held for trial in the circuit court. Bill was fixed at $200 and this was furnished. The charge against Kuta includes three counts, the first of which is attempt to murder. Kuta does not speak English and a Polish interpreter was necessary to take his testimony.

EAGLE TRIES TO CARRY OFF CHILD.

Father Shoots Bird and Saves His Daughter from a Terrible Death.

Sheboygan, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—An eagle measuring 6 feet 1½ inches from tip to tip of wings was killed by T. Smith, a farmer living in the town of Sheboygan Falls. While at work he saw the large bird fly close to his children and grasp his daughter Mary, aged 10 years. The man secured a rifle and shot the eagle. The child and bird fell to the ground, the child not being injured. The eagle was the first killed in Sheboygan county in a long time.

THEY ARE NOT DEAD.

Word is Received from Wisconsin Missionaries Who Are in China.

Appleton, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—A letter was received here yesterday by friends from Mrs. Elizabeth La Doux James, wife of Rev. Edward James, a missionary at Nanking, China, which encourages the belief of friends here that both are safe. The letter was written June 15 from a link place far up in the hills, about 100 miles from Nanking, where many families of missionaries go for the summer and where about 1000 women and children were at the time the letter was written.

So quiet is this link place and far removed from the city of Nanking, that Mrs. James at the time of writing had evidently not heard of the trouble at all, as no reference to it was made in the letter. Rev. Mr. James, at the time of writing, was at Nanking and it is probable that even he knew nothing of the troubles or he would have warned his wife.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. James graduated from Lawrence university at Appleton in 1896.

The safety of Mrs. George W. Verity, formerly of Appleton, who for some years past with her husband has been doing missionary work in China, was still further assured yesterday by a letter received by Matthias Verity of Appleton from Mrs. Verity, who is now at Shanghai. The letter was written June 27 and mailed from Shanghai June 29 upon her arrival there.

The letter just received is dated "On the Canal, June 27, 1904," and reads as follows:

Dear Father Verity: I know that you are feeling very anxious these days—about George and so on. I for have been away from you now just four weeks and how much has happened during this short time. I sent a telegram about two weeks ago saying that he was shut up in Peking and telling you to come to Shanghai. I am now in Shanghai with Mrs. Dr. Barrow and her little girl of our mission. Mr. King of the Baptist mission, who is engaged to Dr. Barrow, is residing on the same street. We started another telegram from Tien Tsin ordering us to proceed immediately. We were told that George was out on the rough kind of a road and we had to put up in some of the dirtiest sorts of inns. But all these hardships count for nothing if I could only know how George is feeling. We are traveling by boat now and expect to reach Shanghai tomorrow or next day. I can't wait for you to hear from me from the boat, but I will write you a very critical condition now and it looks as if the time for the long-talked-of reunion has come at last. I am sure that our Christians will suffer—some have already.

Your letter to George came a few days before I left Tien Tsin, but I did not forward it for I was sure it would reach him. I can't tell you how much I am longing to see you. Now that the English and Chinese are so close, I am sure that the English and Chinese will be shut up in there until soon he will be out again. I feel that the good Father will take care of him, but I wish after I hear more.

I heard "Chinking" and evidently added to the letter at a later date is the following:

We arrived here safely but there is no definite news from Peking yet. A large force is on the way from Tien Tsin and it is possible that the foreigners are safe. I am sure we shall hear from him soon.

GUN SAVES LIVES.

Its Explosion Saves a Family in a Burning House from Cremation.

Madison, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—The family of John Loy in North Madison was saved from probable cremation by the explosion of a loaded shotgun early this morning. A fire that broke out in their dwelling house from some unknown cause spread until the flames enveloped the gun and the powder in the family of five members and saved them from being burned up. The structure, which was consumed, was a two-story frame building. The loss is $1000 and insurance $500.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH.

Hans Thoen, a Farmer of Pleasant Valley is Killed at Hudson.

Hudson, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Hans Thoen, a farmer from Pleasant Valley, fell from the porch of the Harris house and was killed. The body was found early this morning. He came from Baldwin last night and was on his way to Minneapolis. He was a brother of ex-County Clerk Thoen.

CATCH TWO YOUNG EAGLES.

Eau Claire Mail Carrier Captures Descendant of Old Abe.

Eau Claire, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Henry Hladky, the rural route No. 1 mail carrier of Eau Claire, in addition to collecting mail scooped a couple of very young eagles into his baggy the other day. They were captured in the vicinity of Braddock. They are a pair of very lively birds and are named. It is said Old Abe came from the town of Washburn, so these must be either blood relatives of Old Abe or in some way related to that historic bird.

LOGS FOR OSHKOSH MILLS.

High Water in River and Lake Decries the Loggers.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—The abundant rain of the last week has raised the lake and river level so that all the logs jammed in on the boated down to the city. There are 3000000 feet of Kescheba Indian logs to be brought down to the Railroad, Paine and Hollister mills. There are many Red river logs to be brought down to Fond du Lac, Neenah and Menasha. From 75 to 100 men will go to work tomorrow.

RAN INTO A LANDSLIDE.

Passenger Train Wrecked Near Wabasha, Minn.

DUE TO HEAVY RAINS.

Earth Gave Way Shortly Before Train Came Along—Engineer and Fireman Killed.

La Crosse, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger train No. 2, which is due here at 3:05 a. m., was wrecked about 5 o'clock this morning at King's Collie, near Wabasha, Minn., by running into a landslide at that place.

Engineer Hathaway and Fireman Thomas were instantly killed and several passengers in the forward coaches were injured, some seriously.

The track runs between high bluffs and the Mississippi river between St. Paul and La Crosse and the heavy rains of yesterday loosened vast amounts of earth on a steep bluff which gave way shortly before the train came along. Trains passing there only a short time before report a soft track. A wrecking train has been sent to the scene from here.

RACINE ALDERMAN IS MISSING AGAIN.

Writes to Chief of Police to Look in the Lake for a Floater.

Racine, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—Alderman Albert Linck of the Sixth ward has again created a sensation here. This morning Chief of Police Schuchman received in his mail a letter from Mr. Linck stating that he had lost the city for reasons which he could not explain and that he had gone to Chicago, hoping to borrow some money, but had failed to secure what he needed. He further wrote that the chief had better look in the lake as he would probably find a "floater" there. Linck had been missing from the city for several days. His mother, with whom he lived, says that he told her he was going to Union Grove to work. He had been employed in a machine shop here where he had been employed for some time. His friends do not think that he has killed himself, but think he has left the city for some reason which he refused to make public. Several months ago he disappeared from Racine and was gone some time. He was found in St. Paul. He claimed that he knew nothing of where he had been from the time he left the city until he was found.

MURDER IS CHARGED.

Police Officer of Marinette Arrested on Complaint of Cigarette-makers' Union.

Marinette, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—Christian Eck, a member of the local police force, was arrested this morning on the charge of murder in the first degree. The complainant is C. F. Jensen, a member of the Cigarette-makers' union. Eck shot and killed Joseph Mitchell, a journeyman member of the Cigarette-makers' union, early Sunday morning. He was escorting Mitchell to jail for being drunk, when the latter tried to escape. The officer fired at him and the bullet struck him in the head, inflicting a fatal wound. The coroner's jury practically exonerated the policeman, but the Cigarette-makers' union decided to make the complaint. The Trades council, which includes all the laboring unions of this city, held a meeting last evening and passed resolutions of sympathy with the efforts of the cigarette-makers.

No Longer Assistant Superintendent of Wisconsin Division of North-Western Road.

Janesville, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—There is an authoritative rumor in railroad circles here that F. R. Moulton, assistant superintendent of the Wisconsin division of the North-Western road, extending from Chicago to Fond du Lac, has resigned and that his successor will be named in a few days. Mr. Moulton admits that he will quit his present very soon and go to running a train again. He has held the place of assistant superintendent over six years. The cause of his alleged resignation is said to be friction with those both above and below on the operation staff.

PEA PICKERS FROM SHEBOYGAN.

Seven Hundred People Put to Work by Manitowoc Company.

Manitowoc, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—The Albert Landreth Pea Cannery company brought here from Sheboygan, over the North-Western road, a crew of 700 pea pickers. The rain during the past week have quickened the growth of vegetation so much that the peas are ripening at a rate too fast for the local raising factories to handle. It was therefore, necessary to import outside pickers. They will arrive here tomorrow and leave every evening by train for the next week.

This information was given by Frank Shoup, the partner of Raim, and who first went to the Janell residence with the assailant, but he was in Chicago when the assault was made. Raim was traced to Milwaukee and there trace was lost. Jandl is resting easy and the physicians believe he will recover.

Menasha, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—Mrs. Charles R. Smith, wife of the president of the Menasha Woodware company, while returning last night from Appleton in her carriage with her coachman, maid and four children, was attacked by three drunken Polanders on the outskirts of the city. The men held up the horses and threatened to kill the occupants of the carriage. The driver whipped the horses and was able to get away. The men ran after the carriage into the city, where they were arrested and taken to jail. Mrs. Smith and the children were badly frightened. The men were brought up in the municipal court this morning and gave their names as Frank Schickelski and Victor and Conrad Smolenski, employees of the Woodware company. Farmer John Malone, Town of Johns town, May Have Made a Very Rich Discovery.

Janesville, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—John Malone, town of Johnston, has discovered what he thinks to be and what experts tell him is an iron ore mine on his farm. He bought the place some three years ago and the spot where the ore shows above the surface is about 3 feet square. Grain or grass will not grow in this spot and that is what called Malone's attention to it. He has dug down about three feet and the material is full of iron and sulphur.

NOT TAXED ENOUGH.

Sixty Society People of Racine Summoned to Appear Before Board of Review.

Racine, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—About sixty of the most fashionable and prominent ladies and gentlemen of Racine are considerably agitated today on account of the action of the board of review, which has summoned them to appear before it tomorrow morning at a 1 o'clock meeting. The board has decided on the assessment of their personal property. It has been stated that the people have not been paying high enough taxes on their property and the board means to investigate. The members of the board were brought about by statements made during the review of the assessment of the Racine Water company, which company is fighting its advanced taxation. The company was this year assessed on a valuation of $200,000, while last year it was assessed at $150,000. The company, represented by Senator Quarles and Attorney Karney, appeared before the board and argued upon the advancement. Mr. Karney presented a list of sixty names who, he claimed, were being under taxed. The list thus presented contains the names of the people summoned to appear before the board tomorrow.

TO SUE FOR $40,000.

Marinette Lumber Company Starts Action Against "Soo" Road.

Marinette, Wis., July 24.—[Special.]—The Cook brothers have instituted another action for $40,000 against the "Soo" road for the loss of the cedar at Cavour. The case will be tried in Marinette at 10 o'clock tomorrow. It is said that the defendant company is by negligence and failure to live up to an agreement entered into by the Messrs. Cook and the former of the company caused the loss of the cedar. Having neglected to provide the necessary freight cars when needed the plaintiffs had obtained these from other lines and loaded the cedar on them. When this had been done the company placed it in a car, but it did not have the engine to spare to do the hauling. A locomotive was also secured from another line, but no shipments were made, and soon afterward fire swept the property out of existence. It is claimed that at the time the plaintiffs began operations at Cavour they had secured a promise from the railroad company or its authorized agent to have cars ready at hand to enable the Messrs. Cook to ship frequent shipments that no great amount of stock might accumulate, but that such agreement was not complied with at any time.

MAN SAVED MANY LIVES.

A Dastardly Attempt to Deraile Passenger Train.

HE PREVENTS A WRECK.

Alex Swan, a Laborer, Removes Obstruction from Track Just in Time.

Three Lakes, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Some time during last night eighteen ties were piled on the railroad track five miles south of that station. Alex Swan, a laborer at Wilson & Co.'s camp at Stella, Junction, was coming to town early in the morning and noticed the obstruction just in time to remove it and prevent passenger train No. 27, which left at 4:22 a. m., from being wrecked. In addition to the pile of ties there were large rocks piled on a bridge a short distance north of it, which Mr. Swan succeeded in removing also. The train consisted of one coach, baggage car and two sleepers, one of the sleepers bearing a fishing party of thirty or more members of the Three Lakes Rod and Gun club of this place. All on board owe their escape to the heroic act of Alex Swan, who removed the obstruction after hearing the whistle of the engine in the distance.

TWO BODIES FOUND.

Manitowoc Mysteries Are Cleared Up—Missing Men Are Both Dead.

Manitowoc, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Arthur Hann and Emil Fehring, the two Manitowoc men who disappeared so mysteriously more than two weeks ago, and for whom a continual search has been made, Brakeman Schwarz of the Northern road, while engaged in the lake front service, noticed something that resembled a human body lying about half-way down the ship. He notified Officer Shiffin and the two procured a boat and on arriving at the place found a body of a man, but they were unable to recognize who it was. They took the body to Vogt's undertaking parlor, where Frank Hahn identified the body as that of his missing brother, Arthur Hahn, who disappeared July 10. He was working on a boat at the time he disappeared. He was found three men at the Leiss coat docks. The three men, including Hahn, sat down to their dinner at noon of Tuesday, July 10, and after finishing dinner Hahn left the other two men. When 1 o'clock came Hahn failed to reappear for work and the foreman, asking the two men where he was, they said he had gone off for a walk. He never returned, however. His coat, hat and dinner pail had been left on the docks. A reward was offered for his discovery, but was withdrawn a few days ago. Two of the carriers were in the lake side yesterday and it must have been through the working of their wheels that the body was brought to the surface. It is supposed that somehow or other Hahn accidentally fell from the ship and was drowned before help could reach him. He leaves a wife and two children. The body will be taken to New Holstein, where he formerly lived, for burial. He was about 35 years of age.

The body of Emil Fehring was recovered Saturday evening. Samuel Randolph, Jr., was walking along the dock on the lake front when he saw the head of a man appear above water. He jumped into a boat and with the help of Officer Shiffin brought the body ashore. They both believed it to be the body of Hahn, since it was quite generally supposed that Fehring was in Antico, Wis., where he had a brother and was working at his trade. Letters found on his person addressed to him and the name of his key-ring soon showed that it was not Hahn, but Fehring. Fehring disappeared July 9 and nothing had been heard of him since. It was said that he had some domestic trouble and therefore left home. He was a cigar manufacturer by trade. The inquest took place before Justice Markham this morning. It was found that he also fell into the river accidentally and that it was not a case of suicide.

Arner entered a plea of not guilty. Judge Field held him for trial. In default of $300 bail he was committed to jail. This is not Arner's first appearance before the court on the charge of abusing his family. He was arrested in 1902, before for assault and forcing his children to drink whisky, and on one occasion forced one of the boys to drink a pint or more.

APPLETON BOY DIES IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Sergeant Albert H. Cockayne of the Signal Service Killed by the Insurgents.

Appleton, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Sergeant Albert H. Cockayne of Co. E, United States Signal Corps, who was among those reported killed in the Philippines June 20, is an Appleton boy, the son of William Cockayne of this city. He served in the regular army in the Cuban campaign and was promoted for distinguished gallantry at El Caney and transferred to the signal corps. After the close of the Spanish-American war, through the influence of his company and regimental officers, he secured an appointment in the regular signal corps, and after a course at the signal college at Fort Monje, he was sent to duty in the Philippines. No particulars are given in the cable dispatches regarding his death.

MAY BE MURDER.

A Tramp Shoots a Racine County Farmer Four Times and Escapes.

Racine, Wis., July 23.—Frank Jandl, a farmer of the town of Caledonia, lies at St. Mary's hospital with three bullets in his body and may die, having been murdered assaulted and shot by a man known only as "Joe." The stranger and a companion named Frank Sloop applied about 25 yards from the house, and fired three shots, which wounded Jandl in the breast and ran from the house. Jandl followed and when outside the man fired four more shots, two taking effect in Jandl's arms.

The assailant is described as 21 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches tall, somewhat peaked face and weighs 140 pounds. He came from Chicago and said his father was a business man of that place. Officers and others scoured the country for him and all is being done to locate him. It is learned that the man was seen soon after the shooting at Mairbach's saloon near Caledonia, where he asked for some beer. He offered the proprietor a $10 bill, which could not be changed. He then disappeared through the rear door and was not seen again until a Milwaukee, Racine & Kenosha electric car came along, which he jumped and got on. He was seen last night that the fellow offered the $10 bill to the conductor and got it changed. The man left the car at National avenue, Milwaukee.

WORK ON THE ROAD.

Bradley and Collins Pushing Work on the Railway Out of Tomahawk.

Tomahawk, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—When two men of such sterling business ability as W. H. Bradley and W. G. Collins possess become associated in railroad building it is a forerunner of assured success in such an undertaking. The extension of the Marinette, Tomahawk & Western railroad has already begun at a point eight miles from this city, where it will take a southeasterly direction to the Prairie River, thence due east to Antico. Fifteen miles will be built and put into operation this year. The contract has already been let to F. L. Hues, Chicago contractors, for the first fifteen miles, which will cost between $8000 and $10,000 a mile, without equipment. Next year the road may be built to Menomonie. This route will open up valuable territory.

SURVEY COMPLETED.

Wisconsin Valley Advancement Association Will Meet at Tomahawk July 26.

Tomahawk, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—The next meeting of the Wisconsin Valley Advancement association will be held on Thursday, July 26, at the Mitchell hotel. C. B. Pride of Appleton has written Secretary Rose that he expects to finish the survey of the Wisconsin river this week. "I am an extensive piece of work," writes Mr. Pride. I hope to deliver the report in person and go over it with you in detail." Mr. Rose of Shegong of thisander is preparing a mammoth map of the valley which it is expected will be submitted for inspection at the meeting on Thursday next.

MILLS RUNNING AGAIN.

High Water in the Mississippi River Allows La Crosse Sawmills to Resume Work.

La Crosse, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—The rise of five feet in the stage of water here has made possible the resumption of the sawmilling business. The Holway and Nichols mills, two of the largest in the city, say that they will begin sawing this week, and the Coleman mill will soon resume also. This is a great relief to the working people of La Crosse, a large number of whom are dependent on the lumber companies for a livelihood and many of whom have been in hard straits owing to the shutting down of the local concerns.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Lisle Graves of Green Bay Recognized by Prison Authorities.

Appleton, Wis., July 23.—[Special.]—Charles Kelley, claiming to be from Crawford, captured in a box car at Appleton Junction from which he had broken the seal, appeared before Judge Goodland in circuit court, at his own request, and pleaded guilty to larceny, receiving a sentence of six months at the Green Bay reformatory. He was leniently dealt with on account of his youth and his recognition as Lisle Graves, a Green Bay young man, who was a third prisoner committed to the reformatory upon his establishment a few years ago, and the first one to be discharged from that institution after serving two years for larceny, and once making a desperate effort to escape. He will probably be transferred to the state prison at Waupun to serve his term.

Made the Waiter Sad.
One of the greatest sorrows of famous personages is that it is impossible to live up to the ideal opinion which the people whom they meet in the ordinary affairs of life have formed of them. It is recorded that a certain literary man of high reputation had occasion to remark to a waiter in the restaurant where he sometimes lunched: "Waiter, this beefsteak is very tough." The waiter looked at him with a sorrowful expression and sighed deeply. "Perhaps you will tell me," said the literary man, "why you sigh in that fashion?"
"Ah, sir," replied the waiter sadly, "you see I took you for a man who always said original things, and here you come and say just the same thing that all the rest of them do."

OVARIAN TROUBLES.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Them—Two Letters from Women.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to tell you of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I was sick in bed about five weeks. The right side of my abdomen pained me and was so swollen and sore that I could not walk. The doctor told my husband I would have to undergo an operation. This I refused to do until I had given your medicine a trial. Before I had taken one bottle the swelling began to disappear. I continued to use your medicine until the swelling was entirely gone. When the doctor came he was very much surprised to see me so much better."—MRS. MARY SMITH, Arlington, Iowa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was sick for two years with falling of the womb, and inflammation of the ovaries and bladder. I was bloated very badly. My left limb would swell so I could not step on my foot. I had such bearing down pains I could not straighten up or walk across the room and such shooting pains would go through me that I thought I could not stand. My mother got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me to try it. I took six bottles and now, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I am a well woman."—MRS. ELSIE BRYAN, Otisville, Mich.

Not Good on the Servant Question.
"My wife is mad and I don't blame her, and I'll tell you why," said Jones yesterday. "We have kept house for twenty years, and I figure that during that time we have had at least eighty hired girls. Several years ago Mrs. Jones was fortunate to secure a jewel of a girl; but she was indiscreet enough to brag about it around the neighborhood, with the result that one of the neighbors enticed away, under promise of paying her higher wages, and my wife has not forgiven the woman that did it to this day. Ever since she has had a dream that some day she would be lucky enough to draw another prize in the hired-girl market, and when she did she had her plans all laid to keep her."
"Well," the other day the jewel was secured and Mrs. Jones simply hugged herself with delight when she realized what a treasure she possessed.
"The girl had only been with us one week when Mrs. Blank, one of our neighbors, called and casually remarked that she saw that we had another girl."
"Yes," answered Mrs. Jones with a sigh, "I'm only going to keep her till I get another. She is simply unbearable. She is insolent, lazy, slovenly, impudent

ORIGINAL MODEL WAIST.

This smart little waist is an example of the variety which may be attained in this apparently simple style of dress. The material is a rich blue taffeta, ornamented and enriched with cordings, stitchings, lace guipure and narrow black velvet ribbon. The blouse portion, which is finished with a round open neck and band of stitching which overlies the small guipure yoke, is slashed open on each side of the front in a novel way and fastened together by small buttoned cords which are outlined in black velvet. Plaitings of white monoline the side show beneath the buttoned straps with very pretty effect. The small caps at the tops of the sleeves, which are rucked and outlined as they join the main sleeves by a line of guipure lace and black velvet, make a fashion note which deserves attention, as the effort to give breadth to the shoulders constantly is showing itself in small shoulder caps, epaulettes, and over falling collars. "Mrs. Blank has the girl now, and she never loses a chance to tell what a treasure she has and how Mrs. Jones abuses her girls, which makes my wife simply wild."—Detroit Free Press.

CONDUCTING A CAMPAIGN.

The Election of a President is an Arduous Undertaking.
From the day that any party convention nominates a candidate for President until the ballots are counted in November the chairman of that party's National Committee is an exceedingly busy man. The task of "running" a Presidential campaign has become very large.

The business transacted at a national convention is far of and far exceeding the raising of the money for the campaign is an important and delicate task. The "literary bureau," which prepares political matter for the party newspapers, or to be distributed as leaflets, is very busy. Then the bureau of speakers, or "spellers," as they are sometimes jocosely called, requires skillful direction. The different nationalities demand attention, and for those voters who cannot speak English, political arguments in their own language must be prepared and circulated. There are, besides, pictures, songs, cartoons, buttons, badges and numberless devices for winning voters with which the National Committee must be supplied.

The election of a president will always be a serious matter, requiring thoughtfulness, skill and energy of the highest order. Moreover, a large sum of money is needed for legitimate expenses of a campaign. This is a necessary evil, for money must be raised by voluntary contribution; and those who give largely to campaign funds, if they do not look for something in return, are always suspected of doing so.—Youth's Companion.

Recognized Him Immediately.

My companion pointed with his whip across the fields to a house, says a writer in the Lewiston Journal.
"Deacon Andrews lives there," said he. "The deacon's wife got pretty near scared to death last fall, she thought he'd been killed. I'll tell you how it was. He started to drive into the village one day and got down a few houses along the road and found one of the neighbors killing his hog."
"The deacon," says ye going to do with the inside?" the deacon asked.
"Nobin' much," said the neighbor.
"Give 'em to me, will ye?"
"Jest as soon ye'd have 'em as not," said the deacon.
"I'll care for 'em when I come back," said the deacon.

"Ye needn't bother to do that," answered the neighbor. "I'll send the man right up with 'em to your house. He can go just as well as not."
"So the man dumped the whole aggregation into his back porch apron and started for the deacon's house. He kicked at the door with his foot, holding his apron hunched up before him. The deacon's wife came to the door.
"Here's the deacon," he commenced, and he talked he lowered the apron so that she could look at its contents.

"She let one howl—I allus said that horse would get away and smash him up, then she fainted on the kitchen floor."
Opened Her Mouth and Put Her Foot In.

We have all met people whose pride in their own possessions is so great that they can see no charms in the life of others, relates Tit-Bits.
A young botanist was showing a party of ladies and gentlemen through a conservatory, and explaining to them the properties of some of the choicest plants. Among the visitors was a world-bee young-looking middle-aged lady who, at every description, volunteered the statement that the plants and flowers she had at home were quite equal to anything exhibited here, or indeed, anywhere. Just as they were passing a giant cactus she was heard to exclaim:

"Well, this is nothing extraordinary. I have a cactus at home that is still larger. I planted and reared it myself."
"Reared it yourself?" the botanist gently observed. "How remarkable! This specimen is sixty-three years old, and if yours is still larger—"
The lady did not stay to hear any more, but executed a strategic movement to the rear.

BRIEF NOTES OF NOTABLES.

—Eng.-Gen. A. R. Chaffee, U. S. V., will deliver a course of lectures on the lessons of the Spanish-American war at the Newport naval college, at Newport, during the present summer. Some army officers may be detailed to the college to hear the lectures.

—The late Prof. C. A. Buchheim, professor of German at King's college, London, was one of those who made Dickens' name familiar in the Fatherland. His translations of some of Dickens' novels into German have had an immense circulation.

—The Princess Euclia of Spain will remain in Paris only during the proceedings for separation from her husband, as her health is poor and is causing great anxiety. Her physicians advise a speedy return to Madrid, where she will probably live in her former palace.

—Samuel Smith, M. P., whose recent motion in the House of Commons with regard to what are called "Black Smith-like plays" attracted so much attention, is a tall, spare man, slightly bent with years. He wears a long, straggling beard of yellowish-gray color and his hair is iron gray.

—Prof. Max Muller in a recent interview said: "I lost very little time on my feet before my illness. Now I delight in them. Not that I read them extensively myself. They are read to me. The old novels are very good. I am never tired of Sir Walter Scott, but modern fiction is mostly poor stuff."
—The death of the grand vizier, Ali Pasha, has caused in northern Morocco at any rate, no disturbance whatever among the natives. His successor is his cousin, Hadj Mankhar Ben Abdallah. The new grand vizier is a typical Moorish government official, in character as well as by descent.

—Capt. McCalla of the cruiser Newark, who is in command of the American contingent under Admiral Seymour of the British fleet, is a footman. Correspondents who were thrown with him when he was in command of Guantamano bay in the Marlbhead, or "Tub of Blood," as that little ship was known in the navy, say that he was a most hospitable and kind-hearted man, and that in his cabin without offering him a drink, but the drink was invariably raspberry vinegar.

—Viscount Doneraile, grand senior warden of the English Free Masons, is the lineal descendant of the only lady who was ever made a Freemason. His ancestress, the Hon. Elizabeth St. Ledger, the wife of Col. Richard Aldworth, and the mother of the first Viscount Doneraile, who assumed the name of St. Ledger, hid in a recess in a room in Doneraile court, County Cork, during the holding in that room of a meeting of a Masonic lodge. She was discovered and immediately initiated into the Masonic mysteries.

Tested by His Whistle.
"Talking about the queer ways some people have of sizing up a man's capabilities for a job," said a resident of Paterson, N. J., the other day to a Washington Star man. "There recently died in my town a best carpenter named Hebert, who had one question which he always asked of journeymen who applied to him for employment. If the applicant was found to possess all the other necessary qualifications Hebert would ask:

"What are your favorite tunes?"
"Why, what do you want to know that for?"
"You whistle and sing some at your work, don't you?"
"Oh, yes."
"Well, what tunes do you generally whistle or sing?"
"Oh, there's 'Old Hundred,' and 'And Lamb Syne,' and 'Down by the Weeping Willows,' and—"
"That's enough," the boss carpenter would exclaim. "You won't do for me. These tunes are too slow for me. Good-day."

On the contrary, if the applicant answered, "Oh, I generally whistle 'Yankee Doodle,' or 'The Fisher's Hornpipe,' or something of that sort, the carpenter would say at once: "Take off your coat if you want to and so to work."

Chinai's Postal System.
The postal system of the Chinese empire is still in a primitive condition. It is carried on under the direction of the minister of war by means of post carts in the eighteen provinces, and there are 2040 offices for runners scattered over the empire. There are also many private postal couriers, and during the winter the foreign customs office maintains a service between Peking and the outposts.

ROPEMAKING BY ELECTRICITY.

An Economical Innovation at the Charleston Navy Yard.
This morning electricity formally supplanted steam as the motive power in the big ropewalk at Charleston navy-yard, and electricity is for the first time practically applied to ropemaking.
The new plant, which, in addition to the electrical generating apparatus of mammoth proportions, is entirely equipped with modern and improved ropemaking machinery in every department and every detail, worked most successfully. Commander John E. Fitzharry, chief of the equipment department, who suggested the change, overcame many of the difficulties that stood in the way, and who has personally directed the installation of new power plant and machinery, came in for general congratulation from Admiral Sampson, Capt. John O. Dyer, Wadleigh, Farenholt, Commander Kearney, the chief engineer, Naval Constructor or Baxter and other heads of departments, all of whom dropped in during the day to witness the operation of the plant, which was running in every detail, today's practical operating test including every machine and piece of apparatus in the entire plant.

The starting up was gradual, as a matter of precaution, and by reason of the nonappearance of some of the men called within a day or so for work under the new conditions, and also because of the lack of familiarity of some of the new men with the new machinery. But by noon every machine in the break, preparatory, spinning and all the new modern vertical ropemaking machines were running to their full capacity, and the ropewalk was humming with the buzz and whirl of the seventy-two big double flying spinning machines, the big break and carding machines and the twenty-two new vertical ropemaking machines, all of which have been installed in the place of the long lines of small spinning jennies and the old-fashioned break and card machines of various sizes, all nearly a half-century old, and which had practically been worn out in the worst adaptable manner.

The vertical ropemaking machines are an advance in the direction of modern methods, as formerly there were but four or five of these, and they were used only for the manufacture of the very smallest size of rope, all more than a couple of inches in dimension having been laid up on the big quarter-mile alley on the lower floor, with all the trouble and care and practically the same expense for the rope as would have been required in turning out a 25-inch hawser.—Boston Post.

TRUANT LONDON CHILDREN.

Many of Them Brought to School by a Monkey Trick.

Monkeys are very amusing creatures, but one hardly thinks of them as useful in educational work. However, their aid has lately been sought by the London school officers with admirable results. It seems that in one of the school districts there were not so many children reported by the parents as being of school age as the officers knew there ought to be—so to ascertain the real number they called in the monkey to help them, in this way:

Two monkeys were gaily dressed, put in a wagon, and accompanied by a brass band, were carried through the streets of the district, and the children, who made their appearance. The procession was stopped in a park, and the school officers began their work: distributing sweets to youngsters, they took their names and addresses. They found out that sixty parents kept their children from school. This ingenious method brought to school about two hundred boys and girls.—Indian Witness.

Strawberries on Trees.
At last M. Ballez, the great French specialist, has been enabled to grow strawberries on plants of a decidedly tree-like nature. The method is simplicity itself. The runners are trained up vertically and tied to a stake in the same way that a potato plant is, and then the lateral buds are pinched out. Result—a strawberry tree on a small scale.—London Daily Mail.

A Dean's Witty Repartee.

Dean Dickinson, the dean of the Chapel Royal, Dublin, who preached before the Queen on Good Friday at the Viceregal lodge, is well known for his witty repartees. At the close of his enthusiastic advocacy of temperance. On one occasion he was asked if he could suggest something suitable to put over a refreshment stall at a charity bazaar. He immediately said: "Here the wild asses quench their thirst" (Psalm cxi. 11.) At the General synod he never failed to give his opponent a smart answer. A violent attack was once made on him by a North of Ireland gentleman named Brush. After he took his seat, the dean rose and calmly said: "I am unable to conceive what handle I can have given to Mr. Brush to make such a sweeping accusation against me. Another time, when he heard that Mr. Fitzgerald, surgeon-collect to the Queen in Ireland, was paying a holiday visit to Niagara, he promptly remarked: "He'll find a catarrh there—that he can't remove."—M. What Do the Children Drink?
Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it 10c and 25c.

BRYAN ON CHINESE.

The following interview in relation to the situation in China has been given out by William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for president: "Everyone deplors the destruction of life in China and is horrified at the barbarities practiced. Everyone believes that it is the duty of our government to protect the lives and property of American citizens residing in China and I have no doubt that the administration will do so. I also take it for granted that all American citizens will withdraw from China temporarily or take refuge in some seaport where they can be protected by American ships until the excitement is over.

"If the Chinese government has tried in good faith, to protect our citizens, suitable punishment for the guilty and reparation and indemnity for those who have suffered can doubtless be secured. If upon investigation it is found that the Chinese government has not acted in good faith, congress has power to deal with the matter.

"For several years European nations have been threatening to dismember China, and it is not strange that their ambitious designs should arouse a feeling of hostility toward foreigners. That feeling, however, ought not to be directed against American citizens and will not be if our nation makes it known that it has no desire to grab land or to trespass upon the rights of China. A firm adherence to the American policy of justice and fair dealing will not only set an example to other nations but will give to our citizens residing in China the best promise of security. It will be better for our merchants to have in known that they seek trade only when trade is mutually advantageous; it will be better for our missionaries to have it known that they are preaching the gospel of love, and are not the forerunners of fleets and armies."

DeWayne Stebbins, the Algoma man who during the early part of the campaign had some aspirations toward the gubernatorial nomination on the republican ticket, has withdrawn in favor of Bob. In view of the fact that Steb never stood a ghost of a show we commend his foresight.

Shipping Blueberries.

Will Gross has been busily engaged during the past few weeks in shipping blueberries to market, and although the crop is only about one-fourth what it was last year he will handle about 3,500 baskets. Last year he shipped about 10,000 baskets. The price this year is just double what it was last season, when they were plentiful at four cents a quart. The berries are bought at Necedah, Nekeosa and this place and go on to the market at St. Louis, Missouri and Indiana.

The teachers' institute held in this city for the past two weeks closed yesterday. In point of number in attendance and character and amount of work done, this was as successful and profitable an institute as was ever held in this county. Professors Banting and Schulz who assisted superintendent Leu both understand the subject they taught, thoroughly. The work in agriculture, presented by Mr. Schulz, was both interesting and instructive. This was the first time that this branch of knowledge was ever presented to Wood county teachers, so instead of having to be taught the principles of agriculture by the farmers in the rural districts, they may give the farmer some information in regard to his vocation. We hope that the work in this important subject will be continued in the future. The work in grammar and physiology, by Mr. Banting, was excellent. In fact these two subjects were never better and clearly taught at any institute ever held here. The work as a whole was very satisfactory and the teachers went home with higher ideals and well satisfied with their two weeks' work. One feature of the work of pupils in the schools of the county. The purpose of this was to let the teachers see what each other is doing and give new ideas as to what may and can be done in the rural schools.

NEKOOSA.

Mr. Grundy and his party are now nicely located at Birch Lodge as the commodious cottage built just across the river has been christened, and very appropriately, for it is built on a knoll of ground, completely surrounded by birches. The cottage has eight rooms and a wide veranda extends across two sides and just at this point the river makes a deep bend, giving a beautiful view from two sides of the lodge. Mr. Grundy has quite a large party there and they are prepared to remain all summer.

MARSHFIELD ITEMS.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Keczora, living about eight miles north of this city, was so badly burned that she died from her injuries fifteen hours later. A fire was burning in the yard to keep away mosquitoes and while playing about this the little girl's dress caught fire. Her cries brought her father to the scene who extinguished the flames with his hands, receiving quite severe burns himself. A physician was summoned from this city but the skin had been destroyed on half the surface of the child's body and nothing could be done to save her life.

The coming Beell-Adamson match at the opera house next Wednesday evening promises to be the most interesting of any that has taken place in this city. Beell is in good condition and will probably enter the ring at 135 pounds, while Adamson will be a few pounds lighter. Outside of the few pounds difference in weight the men are about as evenly matched as it is possible to imagine two men, the difference in weight being offset by Adamson's remarkable speed.

He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co.

WAS UP TO CLAIMS.

LaPearl's Company Proves to be All That Was Advertised.

The sultry temperature of last evening did not prevent a good sized audience from seeing LaPearl's vaudeville show at the Sherwood, and Manager Farrell kept them quite comfortable with electric fans and ice water. Taken as a whole, the show pleased everyone there, and some parts of it were better than the average for a popular priced performance. The Ellet brothers were very good on the horizontal bars, the moving pictures were good, as was also the musical number by the four Miltons. By far the best thing on the program was the trapeze act of the two LaPearl sisters on trapezes swinging from the top of the opera house directly over the parquette. They are better in that line than any one who has been here for some time.—Ottawa, Ill. Daily Republican Times. At Grand Rapids opera house, Tuesday, July 31.

Bishop Names Candidates.

Bishop Grafton has gone to Deer Park, Md., where he will spend a few weeks in hunting. Before he left Fond du Lac Bishop Grafton gave out the names of candidates to be presented to the coming council for his coadjutor. They are: Dr. Mortimer of St. Mark's church, Philadelphia; Dr. Webb, president of the Nashotah house; the Rev. Father Huntington of the Order of the Holy Cross and son of Bishop Huntington of New York; the Rev. Father Larrabee, rector of the church of the Ascension of Chicago; Dr. Gardner, archdeacon of Algoma; the Rev. B. Talbot Rogers, warden of Grafton Hall and the Rev. Father Weller, of Stevens Point.

The election of coadjutor bishop is to take place at Fond du Lac, Aug. 29 and it is sincerely hoped that the standing committee will see fit to name the Rev. Father Weller for this position. Father Weller is considered one of the brightest clergymen of the Episcopal church and his many years of work in this line will ably fit him for the position of coadjutor bishop. We would suggest that the members of the Episcopal churches of Stevens Point and of this city, with an endeavor to enlist members of other Episcopal churches throughout the diocese, petition the standing committee praying for the election of Rev. Father Weller as coadjutor bishop.

Is it Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines.

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.
It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Johnson & Hill Co., druggist.

How to Pack Eggs for long Keeping.

The yolk of the egg spoils much quicker than the white. For this reason it is important that the yolk should be surrounded with a layer of the white. If the egg is placed on the side or large end the heavy yolk will settle to the bottom and come in contact with the shell, which admits the air. If it is placed on the small end it will always have a layer of white between it and the shell. Eggs absorb odors easily, therefore only odorless materials should be used when packing them.—August Ladies' Home Journal.
